Solution Overview

Challenge

Accurately assessing a commercial structure's reconstruction cost, contents, and a business's financial health is a crucial part of the underwriting process. Inaccuracies can lead to broader exposure risk for an insurer and could unintentionally result in an unsatisfactory customer experience.

Solution

The Ready for Guidewire accelerator for CoreLogic® Commercial Valuation™, available in the U.S. and Canada, makes it easy to quickly gather critical data to assess commercial risk using Guidewire PolicyCenter. Commercial Valuation, formerly Commercial Express® is recognized throughout the insurance industry as best in class for accuracy and reliability. It helps insurers get fingertip access to comprehensive building valuations as well as a more complete view of commercial property risk in a single, fully integrated commercial risk assessment and valuation. By leveraging this solution, insurers can streamline their underwriting process, reduce exposure risk, and provide a more satisfactory customer experience.

Benefits
